Reason for Allowance

6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: None of the prior art of record, taken individually or in any combination, teaches, inter alia, a method, system and a non-transitory computer readable medium for recommending proposed actions based on the collected and integrated analyzed data, from four analysis modules which each module determines criticality ratings, forecast prices, optimal inventory levels and shortage risks, through a plurality of algorithms that optimize the analyzed data based on four different set of user defined parameters as recited in claims 140, 237 and 238.
7. The closest prior art Fox et al., (U.S. 5,491,629), Ouimet (US 2002/0107819 A1) Salvo et al., (US 6,341,271 B1) and Waller et al., (US 2001/0047293 A1) fails to teach or suggest either singularly or in combination recommending proposed actions based on the collected and integrated analyzed data, from four analysis modules which each module determines criticality ratings, forecast prices, optimal inventory levels and shortage risks, through a plurality of algorithms that optimize the analyzed data based on four different set of user defined parameters in claims 140, 237 and 238. Fox et al., teach in col. 6, lines 10-19 and 33-40; Figure 5; A computer system uses internal and external data to determine an impact on the retail industry. The internal and external data is used to revise a managerial plan (i.e., make strategic decisions). Fox disclose the discovering and storing of internal and external data. Ouimet teaches the determination of criticality ratings of a plurality of components in ¶ 0069: "[t]he system gives the user the option of ranking" (e.g., determine criticality ratings) "the multiple Strategic Objects" (e.g., the plurality of components) "in terms of weights" (e.g., criticality ratings) "to prioritize multiple strategic objectives" (e.g., indicates the strategic importance of the component of the operations of the enterprise) "or in terms of a target value" (e.g., a first set of user-defined parameters, for example maximize profit) "for a particular Strategic Objective."). Salvo et al., teaches the forecasting of prices in claim 6: "the control unit [...] is capable of estimating future inventory price information to determine if an inventory order should be placed". Waller et al., teaches the determination of the plurality of components in ¶ 0074 which teaches that "the optimization process" enables "a user to efficiently manage inventory" based for a product set that "offers the lowest possible total cost, highest possible economic profit, highest possible unit sales, highest possible sales revenue, highest possible gross margin, or a weighted combination of any of these objectives for the set of products being analyzed" (e.g., a third set of user-defined parameters) wherein "the proposed optimal solution is expressed in numbers of facings of the products or in optimal shelf inventory level". However, Fox et al., in view of Ouimet, Salvo et al., and Waller et al., does not explicitly recommending proposed actions based on the collected and integrated analyzed data, from four analysis modules which each module determines criticality ratings, forecast prices, optimal inventory levels and shortage risks, through a plurality of algorithms that optimize the analyzed data based on four different set of user defined parameters as recited in independent claims 140, 237 and 238.

8. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
